 - ix. DPS- met with Tom Johnson, who was very receptive and in agreement that what went on wasn't acceptable. He is cracking down and hopes to continue working towards a better future. He was not happy about the mixed message sent to the body, and will be taking care of that. He wants to make it clear that his department is open to criticism (democracy!) and that it will not come back against the students in any way. He is very willing to fix things.
 1. DPS doesn't control parking services and receives no funding from it. He is very open to changes/changes in procedure of enforcement. Apparently money goes directly to general budget.
