Sigma Tau Delta 2020 International Convention

Background:

The English Honors Fraternity is asking for $650 to fund two students' flights from Kirksville to St. Louis and then St. Louis to Las Vegas, the location of the event. The students attending will have submitted pieces for review.

Decision:

The committee has decided to provide the full $650. The committee decided that sending these students to the international convention well represents Truman State University's liberal arts message. The students attending will bring ideas to other schools as well as bring new ideas from others to this school. The organization has done significant outside funding and plans to do more in order to bring four more students from their own budget.

GlobeMed Benefit Brunch

Background

GlobeMed is having their annual Benefit dinner to raise money for the Mission for Community Development in Uganda on February 1st. The meal will have speakers discussing ways to better one's health both in the Kirksville Community and internationally. It is open to anyone in the committee and all proceeds from tickets will go to MCODE. They are requesting $649.75 to fund their sodexo food, banner, and flyers.

Decision:

The committee has decided to fund the group $605 to entirely cover their sodexo catering as this is their largest expense. The event is working to educate the community about local and global issues as well as bring in anyone from the community, not just students, to learn about these things. We have also funded this event in the past.
